Time passes.

>INVENTORY

These are the items currently in your inventory:

- map
- flashlight
- Kit-Kat bar

>SELECT MAP

The map has been torn in half! Follow the coyote, it will lead you to the missing part of the map.

>I HATE THE EFFING COYOTE

I don't know what you mean.

>RETURN TO GAME

The coyote stops to drink from a stream.

>I SAID REMOVE THE SUBTITLES

I don't know what you mean.

>UUUUUUUGGGGGGGGGGGHHHHH

I don't know what you mean.

Are you sure you want to leave "Wunderville: The Game"?

>YES

Chapter 2 by Sarah Matisse-Damon

I am sorry. I can't let you do that.

>WHY NOT

I own your soul.

>WHAT THE HELL

I don't know what you mean.

>LET ME EXIT PLEASE

The physical appearance of the 'please' makes no difference. The answer is still no, so play the effing game.

I don't know what you mean. The landscape becomes bathed in light as the sun rises over the treetops. The coyote lets out one last chilling howl, then begins morphing into a rather hairy man.

I don't know what you mean.

>I THINK YOU MEAN WOLF. WERECOYOTES AREN'T A THING.

They are when they're in Wunderville: The Game! Where wonder meets plunder.

>THAT SLOGAN DOESN'T MAKE SENSE

Anything makes sense if you have wonder in your heart! That's another one of our slogans.

>HOW MANY SLOGANS DO YOU HAVE?

54.

Since you're not doing anything except being annoying, I decide that you approach the werecoyote.

>YOU CAN'T MAKE ME DO THAT

Yes, I can. You turned off narration, but you didn't turn off description, which makes it possible for me to control where the story goes.

>HOW DO I TURN THAT OFF?

You can't. That's just part of the magic of this game!

>...

>THIS IS HELL, ISN'T IT?

Chapter 4 by Fluise

I don't know what you mean.

Please do not call me an idiot. And I do not appreciate your reoccurring use of that word.

>WELL THAT'S TOO BAD.

I don't know what you mean.

>WHAT DID YOU MEAN EARLIER WHEN YOU SAID YOU OWNED MY SOUL?

When you play Wunderville: The Game, your soul belongs to me.

>WHAT THE ...

>EXIT GAME

Oh no no no. You still cannot leave. You can leave when you manage to regain your soul.

>AND... HOW DO I DO THAT?

You must follow the werecoyote. He will show you the missing part of the map.

>...

>OKAY, I GUESS.

I don't know what you mean.

>TAP ON SHOULDER OF WERECLOYOTE

You tap on the shoulder of the werecoyote. He turns around and.....

[Restarting. Please wait...]

You tap on the shoulder of the werecoyote. He turns around and grins, his sharp white teeth glistening in saliva. He's got a mad look in his eye.

"Hi, I'm Jim. Want some lamb?", he says, holding up a bloody leg, freshly torn off from the lifeless body laying beside him.

>ERRR, NO, THANKS

"Do you see Berny here?" Jim says, pointing at the blood-soaked form lying on the ground. "I asked him to play the recorder. He wouldn't do it. Shame, really"

>CAN DEER EVEN PLAY THE RECORDER?

"No, but that's besides the point. Now come, join me in this feast, and I shall make you my man servant"

>ERRR OK

You take a bite of the raw leg of lamb. Oddly, it tastes like chicken. "Well done" said Jim. The werecoyote, settles down next to a tree, and beckons you to sit at the nearest tree, which you do. His breathing slows, and before long, you realize that Jim is asleep...
